Chinese White Dolphins

Endangered species are animals that may soon disappear from the world. Chinese White Dolphins are endangered species.

Chinese White Dolphins live either along the coast or at river mouths. They are endangered because of water pollution, land reclamation and heavy boat traffic. These reasons make it hard for the Chinese White Dolphins to live and find food.

To save the Chinese White Dolphins, we should not throw rubbish and poison the rivers when we go fishing. Also, we can ask the government to make laws that protect the Chinese White Dolphins.
